LOCAL NEWS NOTES OF SONOMA BRIEFLY TOLD

Movements of Sonoma Valley Residents and Their Friends—Other Items of General
Public Interest

Mr. and Mrs. A. Pera are enjoying a visit with the gentleman's sister at Eureka. They will return to their home in this city next week.

Miss Gladys Small spent New Year's day and the week-end visiting in San Francisco, a guest at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. John Sholden.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kinsella had the pleasure of entertaining their respective parents—Mr. and Mrs. R. Kinsella and Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Robinson—and the Misses Katherine and Evelyn Kinsella, all of San Rafael, over the New Year holiday.

Mrs. Charles J. Birdsall, wife of Sergeant Birdsall, and Mrs. Katherine Becker, close friends of Mrs. Granice, were here from San Francisco in attendance on the bereaved widow at the funeral of the late Harry H. Granice.

Mrs. Charles B. McDevitt is suffering from a severe infection of the left foot, that member having been penetrated by a needle, Tuesday. Dr. Gobar is attending Mrs. McDevitt, and friends of the lady hope for no further painful results from the accident.

On New Year's Day, at the Sonoma Valley Sanitarium, a fine baby boy was born to Mrs. Jack Meyer, of Embarcadero. Mother and babe are doing splendidly, and Mr. and Mrs. Meyer are receiving the congratulations of many friends on the advent of their first-born.

John P. McDonnell, of Sebastopol, came over to Sonoma to pay tribute to his esteemed friend, the deceased editor, H. H. Granice, of the Index-Tribune, by whom and in this office the former Sonoma boy had been taught the newspaper business. A firm, fine friendship continued to exist between the older and the younger newspaper man throughout the years.

Sonoma Parlor of Native Sons of the Golden West, at a meeting held Monday evening, decided to change the date of the Homeless Children Benefit from February 22nd to Saturday night, January 30th. A grand ball is to be given, for which music is to be furnished by the Pauli-Gottengberg Orchestra and refreshments are to be served. Arrangements are being rapidly perfected for the event.

Mrs. Julia Granice-Sprague departed for Los Banos, Tuesday, where her husband, Dr. Frederick Sprague, is permanently located. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murphy (nee Celeste Granice) returned to their home in Alameda, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lynch (nee Ramona Granice) departed for Ukiah the same day. The ladies had journeyed to their old home to attend the funeral of their father, H. H. Granice.

Sonoma's popular playhouse, the Don Theatre, has arranged for a weekly presentation of some of the finest dramatic productions shown today. This week the delightful romance, "The Prisoner of Zenda," was portrayed, to the great enjoyment of the large audiences which crowded the little theatre both nights. Next week, Friday and Saturday, January 15 and 16, "The Squaw Man," with Dustin Farnum in the title role, will be the attraction. "The Squaw Man" is a gripping drama, replete with thrilling situations.

The New Year's Eve Ball, given under the auspices of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club, proved a social and financial success far exceeding the most sanguine expectations of the ladies. The hall—decorated by the committee of arrangements, Mesdames Harry J. Wicker, L. V. Emparan and A. W. Adler—while not elaborately adorned, never looked prettier, and many compliments were showered upon the ladies for the effective arrangement. Mesdames Pauline McMullin and A. W. Adler served admirably as floor managers, and Mesdames Emparan, A. H. Bates and H. J. Wicker, who officiated as a reception committee, assisted in looking after the pleasure of the dancers. The music, by the Pauli-Hansen Orchestra, augmented, was par excellence.

City Trustee and Mrs. Charles B. McDevitt and family visited in Berkeley the week-end.

The regular meeting of the Congregational Ladies' Aid Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Marie Clewe, on Tuesday afternoon of next week, Jan. 12th.

Principal and Mrs. Jesse F. Prestwood are receiving the congratulations of their host of friends on the advent into their home of a baby daughter. The little stranger arrived Monday, and we are glad to note that mother and babe are doing nicely.

The deceased editor of the Index-Tribune, Harry H. Granice, in connection with other relatives, is survived by a half-brother, Lee Steele, who is also a member of the newspaper fraternity. At the present time, Mr. Steele is holding a position on the Mariposa Gazette, at Mariposa.

The Sonoma Baseball Club is getting ready for the coming season by the giving of a grand ball Saturday night of next week, Jan. 16th, the proceeds from which will be used for the purchase of new suits. The dance will take place at Union Hall, and music will be furnished by the Pauli-Gottengberg Orchestra, and refreshments will be served by the boys. Manager Jim Modini and Captain Ralph Evans, with their corps of assistants, are planning for a royal good time at this event, and no effort will be spared to have it justify fully pleasurable anticipations. The usual admission price of fifty cents will be charged.

Through Mayor Wm. Hacht the model was submitted, last week, of the panel which is to embellish the Bear Flag Monument. The design is very handsome and shows the Bear Flag and the American Flag united with a shield, on which is the figure of Eureka. Above the shield is a bear. The local committee of Native Sons is much pleased with the model, which was forwarded to the State Board of Controllers for consideration. On Wednesday, Mayor Von Hacht received the satisfactory information that the model had been accepted. The panel, suitably inscribed, will be placed in position most probably in June.

The Homeless Children Benefit Masque Ball given by Glen Ellen Parlor of Native Sons at Chauvet Hall, Glen Ellen, last Saturday night, was a splendid success, from every point of view, and Messrs. J. Panerazzi, J. M. Sobbe and A. Kunde, who arranged and managed the ball, deserve the highest commendation on the result of the undertaking. Chauvet Hall was thronged with merry maskers and the awarding of prizes was as follows: Best sustained lady character, "Mary Jane," Miss Noreen Dower, hand-painted plate; most original lady character, Mrs. C. Higgins, "South Market-Street Tough," hand-painted bowl; best sustained gentleman's character, Wm. Ives, "South Sea Islander," tobacco set; most original gentleman's character, Louis Sobbe, "Devil," toilet set. Seventy dollars, in excess of expenses, was realized from the ball.

The pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Fochetti, on Vallejo street, was the scene of a merry gathering, Tuesday night, at which Miss Mary Rossi, of Santa Rosa, was the guest of honor. The interior of the delightful home was gay with holly berries, trailing smylax and other greenery, and in the receiving and entertaining of her guests, Mrs. Fochetti was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Adam Adler. The young people who enjoyed the hospitality extended by the most charming of hostesses avowed the evening the most pleasurable-giving in their memory. The mazy dance was the favored form of diversion, and the discussion of delectable refreshments made the enjoyment of the function replete. Besides the host and hostess and Mrs. Adler, there were present: Misses Martha Landgraf, Nancy and Zoleta Bates, Mary Springer, Eleanor Kehoe, and Mary Rossi; Messrs. Roy Johnson, Harry Quattaroli, Ray Cooper, Jas. and Will Kehoe, Ralph Evans, Paul Thomson and Otto Brandt.

In Memoriam

HARRY HALE GRANICE

H. H. Granice, for thirty years editor of the Index-Tribune has crossed the Great Divide and in his passing Sonoma has lost one of its most valued citizens and more than one man in the community a faithful friend and splendid adviser.

His passing occurred at the Lane Hospital, San Francisco, shortly after two o'clock, Saturday morning, January 2nd. Although Mr. Granice had been in failing health for many months, yet when the summons of the Death Angel reached the veteran journalist—the dear of the newspaper fraternity in Sonoma County—his death came as a profound shock to his family and friends.

While suffering from a complication of disorders, these were aggravated by congestion of the lungs which followed the inhalation of large quantities of smoke at the fire which occurred at his home in the early morning hours of Sunday, December 20th.

Mr. Granice is mourned by a more than ordinary circle of friends, embracing as they do men and women of every faith and creed and of every walk in life. He was a man quick to see and appreciate the virtue and possibilities of his fellows and interested himself in them in a way that made for him life-lasting friendships. While he made countless friends, he also had his factional differences, but he ever respected his antagonists when they played fair and it was only the charlatans who suffered criticism at his hands. It was this fair, broad dealing policy that made the Index-Tribune a power in the community, in the county and throughout the State of California.

The upbuilding of Sonoma was his life's work, and his abiding faith in its future and citizenship never faltered.

Honest and above board in his business dealings, fair and square with his fellows, loyal in his friendships, staunch in his principles Sonoma has lost a magnificent friend, but the newspaper he has built will endure, and be unswerving in the policies he has outlined for it—a monument to his life's work and enterprise.

No better words than those of Mr. Granice himself, taken from the issue of the Index-Tribune on its thirty-fifth birthday, bear out this encomium:

"With this issue the Sonoma Index-Tribune enters upon its thirty-fifth birthday. Established in 1878 by Ben Frank, a well-known newspaper man of those early days, the paper passed through many vicissitudes during the first five years of its publication, and during that brief period changed hands no less than a dozen times.

In 1884 it became the property of the present owner and editor, who purchased it from ex-Congressman E. J. Livernash, then a mere boy of seventeen but a writer of ability, whose only fault was that he was too outspoken in his editorial utterances for so limited a field as Sonoma was in those days, and he thought it best to retire and devote his energies elsewhere. This he did and afterward became famous as a writer, lawyer and politician and has never ceased to congratulate himself upon passing the buck up to us.

Succeeding Mr. Livernash, the present management has now for a period of thirty consecutive years, without missing an issue, successfully shaped its policy and made the paper a good paying proposition. There are reasons for this success which can readily be made plain in a few counts:

"First—These columns have always been free and untrammelled and have at all times been used in the interests of the whole people regardless of petty cliques, clans and combinations which have sought in the past to shape its editorial utterances in the interests of the few as against the many.

Second—This newspaper has always consistently worked for the development of the resources of both town and valley and endeavored the best it knew how to make the charms of this nature-favored section known to the outer world and not in vain, we know.

Third—The Index-Tribune has never under its present management been under the domination of any one man (except its editor) or any set of men with private axes to grind, and always tried to do right and endeavored to serve the people of both town and valley faithfully and well.

Fourth—The editorial columns of the Index-Tribune have never been conducted on a commercial basis—that is to say, they are not for sale to further the plans of schemers, mischief-makers, agitators or corrupt politicians, who have been forced to enter the newspaper field themselves in order to feel some people.

Sixth—Last, but not least, the Index-Tribune has never repudiated a debt, but for thirty years has paid every bill promptly, has had no debts, has contributed in a modest way, to charity and public enterprises, and after all these years of activity is still backed up by public opinion and confidence and the editor's private bank account."

The following sketch of the early life of Mr. Granice—taken from the Family Record—was written by his mother, Mrs. Rowena Granice Steele:

"Harry Hale Granice, son of Thomas N. C. Granice and his wife, Rowena Granice, was born in the City of New York, December 3d, 1849.

In 1857, he came with his parents to California and attended school in San Francisco and Sacramento. His father, Thomas N. C. Granice, died in San Francisco, March 20th, 1859; was buried in Lone Mountain Cemetery, San Francisco, Cal. In June, the 13th, 1861, his mother was married to Robert Johnson Steele, and Harry, then twelve years old, commenced to work in a printing office with his stepfather, Mr. Steele, at Auburn, Placer County, Cal. The first work he did was to help print a book entitled 'Leontine St. James,' a novel written by his mother.

In the summer of 1862, Harry with his mother, brother George and stepfather moved to Snelling, Merced County, where his father and mother started the 'Merced Banner.' After working in the printing office eight years, he started to the Pacific Business College, San Francisco, from which he graduated in 1869, and in 1872 he started a newspaper called 'The People,' in the then new town of Merced, Merced County, Cal., which he ran with much success until his stepfather moved into Merced. He then sold out and took the position of foreman of 'The Argus.'

In 1877, he commenced work as a compositor on the 'San Francisco Bulletin,' where he continued to work until 1884, when he commenced the publication of the Index-Tribune at Sonoma, Sonoma County, Cal."

The remains of Mr. Granice were brought to the home wherein for several decades he had resided, and from which just one week before he had departed, hopeful that he would return improved in health. Old-time friends—the associates of thirty years—and the friends no less sincere and true of recent years were gathered to pay sorrowful tribute when all that was mortal of Harry Hale Granice was borne within the home portals.

The funeral obsequies were held from the family residence, Monday afternoon, Rev. T. M. Price, pastor of the Congregational Church, conducting the services, and eulogizing the life-work of the deceased editor in this community. The pall-bearers were Messrs. George Breitenbach, A. Beretta, A. W. Adler, L. Quattaroli, Fred Batto and Frank Burris—all friends throughout the years.

In the family plot in peaceful Mountain Cemetery, by the side of beloved ones gone before, the remains were consigned to eternal rest, and his grave was covered with the most beautiful of floral offerings.

Besides his wife, to whom he was wedded but three months ago, in September, Mr. Granice is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Walter Murphy of Alameda, Mrs. Frederick Sprague of Los Banos, and Mrs. Ernest G. Lynch of Ukiah.

His Wife's Sentiments.

In some sad hour I'll hold your trembling hand,
And plead the passing moments for delay,
And one must stay.
It matters not for us which it shall be,
Who first shall tread alone the hidden ways,
But God be gentle in that lonely hour
To the one who stays.

FROM VINEBURG HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Fred Batto transacted business in the City of Roses on Wednesday.

Chas. Groskopf spent the New Year holidays visiting friends in the metropolis and returned Monday.

Sam Lewis, Sonoma, City's popular butcher, and Attorney Frank Sprague passed through Vineburg, Wednesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos F. Groskopf entertained a number of Vineburg friends at their Broadway residence in Sonoma, on New Year's Eve.

Mrs. Jos. Groskopf, of Sonoma, and Miss Mamie Clements, of San Francisco, were the guests of Mrs. Albert Groskopf, at "Whispering Pines," on Wednesday last.

The first day of the Exposition Year, 1915, was celebrated in a quiet manner in Vineburg. A large number of people from the bay cities were the week-end guests of friends in this vicinity.

Wednesday morning four carloads of feed and grain were switched in on Batto's Spur, aggregating in all about eighteen hundred sacks. Feed may be high, but our poultry men are sure to see their flocks will be fed.

Howard Brown, of Vineburg, and Mr. Jones, of San Francisco, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hansen, at an elaborate dinner on New Year's day at the Hansen residence in Sonoma. Both gentlemen say the repast was a dream of culinary art.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lehrke and son Henry spent the week-end at Vineburg and Los Amigos and returned to the city, Monday. Mr. Lehrke came up to Vineburg to give orders to beautify his beautiful country home "Los Amigos," and on Monday left for Mendocino County.

On New Year's day, Messrs. Fred and George Lowell, well-known orchard men, shipped from Batto's Spur a straight carload of choice evaporated apples, amounting to six hundred and forty boxes, this car being the last of their dried apple pack of twenty tons for the season of 1914. Lowell Brothers have on hand about eight or ten tons of other kinds of dried fruits for future shipment.

Resolution of Respect

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty to summon to the Highest Grand Lodge, Sister Ragna Jansen, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That Verdant Rebekah Lodge, No. 99, has lost one who for many years was a sincere and faithful member, and

RESOLVED, That in the death of our beloved sister, we have sustained the loss of a friend whose friendship it was an honor and a pleasure to enjoy.

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be spread in full on the records of the Lodge, and be it further

RESOLVED, That the charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, and a copy of these resolutions be presented to her bereaved children, Alfred, Jerome and Norma Jansen.

GLADYS SMALL,
JESSIE HISEN,
Committee.

Dated, December 24, 1914.

Church Society Meeting

A meeting of the Children of Mary of St. Francis' Church was held last Sunday, immediately after Holy Mass, in the Convent Hall, where a dainty breakfast was served. Following this, the election of officers for the new year took place under the direction of Rev. Father Comerford. The officers elected were: President, Miss Albina Eraldi; vice-president, Miss Edith Quattaroli; secretary, Miss Irene Nessi; counsellors, Misses Eleanor Kehoe, May Walsh, Ethel and Marguerite Gericke. A fact noted with much satisfaction is that the membership has greatly increased during the past year.

School opened on Monday with a full attendance. The short vacation was much enjoyed by everyone, but all were glad to get back again.

Friday night, January 15, the High School expects to play the St. Helena High Basketball team in this town. The details of the game have not yet been arranged for, but full particulars will be announced later.

The second quarter of the school year will be over next week, and as a consequence the students are beginning to "bone up" for the examinations.

Frederick Duhring and Harold Weise, both students at the University of California, were visitors on Monday.

JUNIOR.

SHELLVILLE NEWS

J. Windrow spent Wednesday at his ranch on the Keiser tract.

Conrad Keiser was among the San Francisco visitors the fore part of the week.

After a brief visit in the bay cities, Jos. Kechler reached home Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCray dined with the Logan Beamer family, Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Watt entertained a number of relatives at dinner on New Year's day.

Judge Emmet Seavell, of Santa Rosa, boarded a Friday evening south-bound train at this place. Miss Helen Johnson is setting out about three hundred different varieties of fruit trees on his ranch here.

Mrs. Harold Pauli and little daughter Helen returned home, Monday evening, after a pleasant visit with relatives in San Francisco.

Mrs. Erhard Steiger returned, Monday evening, after a pleasant visit of a few days with her parents in San Francisco. Little Miss Evelyn Steiger, who accompanied her mother, remained for a few week's visit with her grandparents.

On last Monday evening at the A. Trappe home, a large number of friends and neighbors were delightfully entertained at that hospitable home. Games, music and appetizing refreshments were the order of the evening's entertainment.

HAPPY JACK.

City Trustee Meeting

The City Trustees met in their regular monthly session at the City Hall, Wednesday evening, January 6th.

Present: Trustees Von Hacht, Johnson, Dal Poggetto, Breitenbach; absent, Trustee McDevitt. President Von Hacht was in the chair.

The regular monthly bills were ordered paid.

Mr. French, of the City Improvement Company, appeared before the Board and discussed street pavements.

In regard to the complaint filed by President Von Hacht with the State Railroad Commission against the Sonoma City Water Works, City Attorney Poppe suggested that the matter be held in abeyance for ten days.

The Board adjourned to meet Monday evening next, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Irving C. Gobar is enjoying a visit from her mother and sister, Mrs. P. and Miss Nora McDonnell, of San Francisco.

Stephen Duhring had the misfortune to break his left arm at the elbow, Wednesday, while wrestling with a boyish companion. The injury, which was dressed by Dr. Irving C. Gobar, is a very severe one, and Stephen's friends, old and young, deeply regret the unfortunate occurrence.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT THE CHURCHES

Congregational Church
(T. M. PRIOR, Pastor.)

Sunday morning worship at 11 o'clock.

DEAR FELLOW MORTALS:
Truth does not change to suit
our notions. We must all wear clothes even if there is a large variety of modes of apparel. With all kindness, I ask you to keep on your clothes in 1915. And Domini.
There is a God and you are his creation and preservation and you owe Him, that acknowledgement which is, as He commands, that on the Sabbath you unite in public worship of Him. God has seen fit to give you liberty but to be great enough to use it right is not always true. A babe with liberty unrestrained gets into fire and water but men if they cannot use their liberty aright, mostly get into the fire. Church service is your duty to God, your community and especially your children. As a citizen of Sonoma I beg of you, be a citizen that does your town good.

WHY "HOGMANAY?"

Various Explanations Given of Scotch
Name For New Year's Eve.

It is natural with New Year's even more than with other holidays that a large part of the observance should fall upon the eve rather than upon the day. In no other festival or fast is any single moment so important as the moment of midnight that marks
the change from the 31st of December to the 1st of January. That is the turning point in the celebration, the thing itself which is celebrated. The early ceremonies lead up to it, and the later ones begin with it.

Nobody knows why the 31st of December should be called Hogmanay in Scotland. In the north of England this word is Hagnena, and in two or three other countries there are names for the day that sound a little like these. Several unlikely guesses have been made at the origin of the word,
and they are as unprofitable as guesses made entirely without basis of knowledge usually are. One of them is that the words "Hogmanay, trollo-lay," which occur in a song, are a corruption of "Homme est ne—trolls rois la." This theory ignores with a calu-ness of indifference that is positively fascinating the fact that the word trollo-lay occurs in a thousand other songs where it could not by any possible stretch of philological imagination mean "trolls rois la." It is here set down only to illustrate once more the absurd extremity to which the craze for ignorantly deriving words will carry its victims. The word Hogmanay was applied also to a certain dole of oat cakes, sometimes accompanied by cheese, given to a child on this day. The children of the poorer people went about in companies asking these gifts, and the people who were more well to do often gave them in such quantities that the problem was rather how to carry them than how to get them.

Going about in large parties to visit neighbors with one sort of ceremony or another formed a part of the observance of many an old custom in England and Scotland, but the present time seems to have been one of the most favored of all in this respect.

THE SQUAW MAN

With Dustin Farnum

America's most gripping drama.

The stage's most popular actors and best cast ever assembled.

Reels of superb drama, cyclonic climaxes, subtle humor and the keenest natural scenic equipments. All features staged by DeMille and Apfel, in the precise locale of play

Admission 15c and 25c

Several Suits Commenced

Word has just been received that the Royal Taylors have commenced 1,600 suits today. They make an average of a half-million suits every year. As F. Clew-is the local agent you would do well to come and look over the samples. All the latest styles are shown.

RING OUT, YE BELLS!

IN every country where man

keeps New Year's the pealing of the bells is the first herald of dawn of the holiday.

For fifteen centuries, ever since

Bishop Paulinus introduced bells

in the ceremonies of the Christian church, the custom has been followed. It grew out of the ancient habit of exorcising malignant spirits with chimes so that the journey of the dead into the great beyond should be undisturbed.

The great bell of Moscow, the Liberty bell, John Bunyan's bell,

the chiming of Old Christ church in Philadelphia, are some of the noted relics whose brazen throats have told the coming of a new year. Modern skill has made the machine a part of a complicated machine operated by electricity and played by the finger much as a pianist sits before his instrument, but whether operated by old or modern methods the New Year's peals hold their place undisturbed in the affections of man.
